INTERMAC AGM

Charlotte, NC is The Biesse Group's brand specializing in the production and distribution of CNC work centers for glass, natural stone, and synthetic stone. Starting in the early '90s, Intermac developed a vital presence among the producers of stone machining equipment. In the following years, the company further established its name through intense research and development that brought improvements in the technology and the ability to offer its customers advanced solutions to satisfy their needs. Intermac AGM was formed to better serve customers in the stone and glass industries. In April 2007, Biesse America acquired the distribution and service business of AGM Glass Machinery. For 20 years, AGM had successfully operated as the U.S. distributor for Intermac glass and stone machinery and systems. With the acquisition, a new synergy has been achieved for Intermac customers in the U.S. market.
