What is the ASID Foundation?

By Barbara Schlattman

Do you know the difference between ASID and the ASID Foundation?

Your membership dues provide ASID programs such as education, marketing, the right to practice and more. The ASID Foundation supports endeavors that further knowledge, innovation, and benefits to the public through interior design. This is done through funding research, scholarships, and education.

The ASID Foundation has been a major supporter of:

- Scholarships
- Evidence-Based Design for Residential Environments
- Materials Research Collaborative, a project of the Healthy Building Network
- Veteran's Housing Initiative of Rebuilding Together
- REGREEN, in collaboration with the US Green Building Council Council for Interior Design Accreditation's Future Vision and Collaborative Strategies
- The Green House – exhibit at the National Building Museum

These projects would not have happened without your support of the Foundation. New research is continuously available and your dollars make this happen.

How to donate? Most of our donations come from members who donate annually or pledge over several years. Another way is through the Legacy Society – giving through your will.

For more information, visit our website: www.asidfoundation.org

Call Valerie O'Keefe: 202-546-3480 Or locally, contact your local ASID Foundation Board members: Barbara Schlattman, FASID (bschlattman@mindspring.com) & Donna Vining, FASID (donna@viningdesign.com)

2011 ASID TGCC Kitchen and Bath Tour

Ellouise Abbott Award

I have been asked to give a little background on the Ellouise Abbott Award and about Ellouise Abbott herself. The first award was given after her death almost thirty years ago. It was decided that this award was not to be taken lightly, and would only be given, when we have an Industry Partner who had devoted years of outstanding service to our chapter. It was to be the highest honor that our chapter can bestow upon an Industry Partner at the local level.

Ellouise Abbott opened a small fabric showroom, in a little run down house on Alabama, over fifty years ago. She quickly became known as the queen of fabrics in the gulf coast area. She had the exclusive rights to sell many of the finest fabric lines in the world. Her showroom was truly a "to the trade only" showroom. She protected the interior designer, by refusing to sell anyone except designers. To purchase from her showroom, you must have been approved by Ellouise herself. To do this, you had to furnish extensive information and credentials, and endure an interview with Ellouise. It was not easy, but once approved, you had access to fabrics, that other designers were not allowed to purchase. She called it snob appeal and it worked.

In 1989 a fountain was built in her honor at the Decorative Center of Houston. Ellouise was quick to point out that only by protecting the designer, could you expect the designer to prosper and return to purchase from you in the future. She set the standard, that many of us live by today.

The first Ellouise Abbott Award was presented by Steve Taylor in 1985. Steve took over the Ellouise Abbott Showroom, after her death.

Ray Levy was presented with the Ellouise Abbott Award this year.

Over the years, the award has been given to several individuals. This year, Ray Levy has received the award. He has served on almost every committee that we have. He has been our Industry Member to the board and has also been our Industry Director at Large. Ray has worked tirelessly to help our chapter and has been responsible for the rapid growth of our Industry Partner Organization.

No free lunch?

Yes there is!

Ever hear about ASID INDUSTRY PARTNER LUNCH AND LEARN? The first Friday every other month ASID has a Lunch & Learn. Five Industry Partners will update you on their services and what's new in their industry. It's open to all ASID members but we would like to see as many designers as possible. Turn To The Pros

When I have a stopped up sink, I call the plumber for help. When the lights start flickering, I call in the electrician. When we want to design or redecorate a home, we call a designer. When you want a job done right you call in the pros. Who does the designer call when she is working out her design issues? Interior Designers are well informed but they can't know everything about all the different trades, products, and services that are now available to them. Nor should they be. No one expects that much information from one person.

Industry Partners members are Pros too. We joined ASID to partner with professionals! Professionals like YOU! We want you to turn to us when you are faced with questions about product, safety, and installation. Your IP members are brimming over with tons of information on their specialty plus years of experience to back it up! We would love to share our knowledge with you and your clients! Please don't be shy. We invite all your questions, simple or complex, from designers and students alike. Please call on your IP members when choosing trades and vendors. IP members take pride in helping the designer and their clients make informed choices and supplying the best in products and services. Surround yourself with Professionals! We will be there long after the others have gone.

Student Representative to the Board Message

Hi, my name is Kathryn Adams but everyone calls me Katye. I am a junior Interior Design major and Business Management minor at Stephen F. Austin State University. I currently serve as the Vice President (President Elect) for the SFA Student Chapter of ASID. My love for our local student chapter inspired me to get more involved in the Texas Gulf Coast Chapter of ASID. My first step was applying to be Student Rep to the Board. With this goal achieved, I hope that I can help unite the student voices around our area and help create a stronger bridge between practicing professionals and students aspiring to be designers. This is not just another title or experience for my resume, I would like to be one of many future building blocks that helps create a stronger connection and support system for students now and in the future. We are the future of the design industry and the decisions we make and opportunities we take advantage of now will help ensure the strength of our industry in years to come. After I graduate in 2013 I plan on getting my Masters in Interior Design while continuing to work at Greer's (a local residential design and fabric/upholstery company in Nacogdoches, Texas). Ultimately I hope to move to the Boulder, Colorado area to work for an Architecture and Design firm specializing in Hospitality Design. I look forward to representing all the students in the Texas Gulf Coast area and hope this year will be a huge success for not only each student chapter but for the TGCC as well. Good luck everyone!

Sincerely,

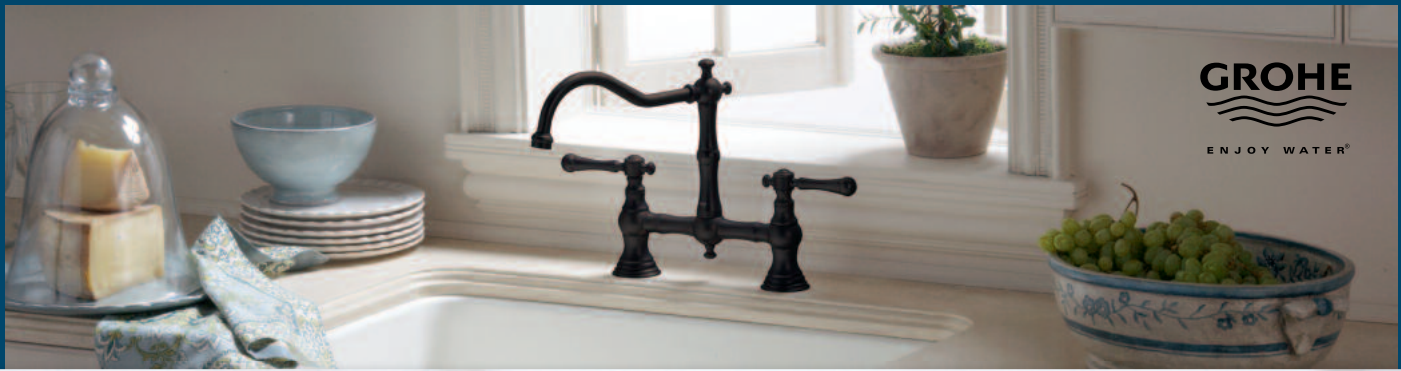

Katye Adams

Student Leadership Gathering

By Katye Adams, Student Rep to the Board

The Texas Gulf Coast Student Leadership Gathering was held at the ASID office November 5, 2011. Approximately 20 Student Chapter Board Members, Advisors, and student chapter members attended the event hosted by the 2011-2012 Student Rep to the Board Katye Adams. The event went provided information pertaining to the role student organizations play in both our regional and national chapters as well as information over branding, emerging professionals, scholarships, and other key topics. The leaders were then divided up into groups of 5 to network and share ideas, questions, concerns, and successes in each individual chapter with other chapter leaders in hopes that this would provide a good flow of information, ideas, and support between chapter leaders. Each leader and advisor was given a binder with all the guides, handbooks, etc. provided on National's website to take back with them to their student chapters. If you are an officer or advisor and were unable to attend the event please feel free to contact me and I will find a way to get the information to you. The event was an overall success and we hope that everyone was pleased with the information given. Thank you to all the Board members who were in attendance and helped beforehand to ensure this events success.
